

Community Engaged Scholarship
CRITICAL JUNCTURES IN RESEARCH, PRACTICE, AND POLICY
Conference

November 4-5, 2010
Guelph, Ontario, Canada

This conference will convene national and international scholars from diverse disciplinary backgrounds to present and discuss emerging research on community-engaged scholarship (CES) in higher education and its implications for research, practice and policy.

Summarizing the table discussions

Critical Junctures, November 4-5, 2010

+ The Process and the Product

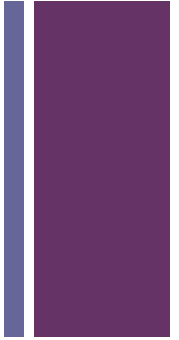

- n Process

- n Product

 - n High level

 - n Commonalities

 - n Great deal of overlap – no matter what level, what context

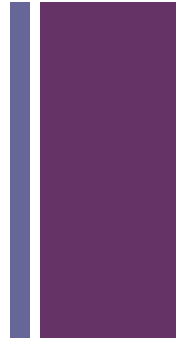

+ Common Themes

n Conceptual Challenges

n The what

n The who

n The how

+ Common Themes

n Values (and tensions)

n Democratized knowledge

n Flexibility

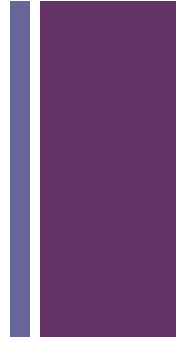

n Lasting, mutually beneficial relationships

n Creative thinking/ approaches

+ Common Themes

- n Opportunities for action
 - n Changing university culture
 - n Evaluating and rewarding CES
 - n Conducting CES
 - n Structures and Resources
 - n Skill Development

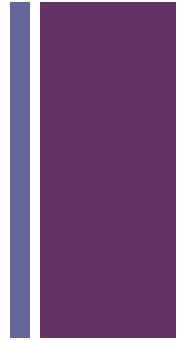

+ Common Themes

n Learning more: Research questions

- n Examine how we can do CES
- n Examine how we can evaluate CES
- n Ask questions about...
- n Document...

+

Inviting Reflections...